

Intra-squadron rocketry

Approximately a dozen Pilgrim cadets are meeting Saturdays to design and build rockets. The cadets are split into two teams that will pit their rockets against each other in contests for design, altitude, accuracy to a target and any other criteria they think up. The program is funded through donations and there is no cost to cadets. We may supplement the program so cadets can earn rocketry badges.

