

Lego bridge – November 19

Aerospace Education Member Dave Lemee, a former Pilgrim member, led the squadron in a class on types of stresses on structures, leading to construction of a Lego bridge spanning nearly the entire length of the building. Lemee's emphasis was on the five forces structures endure and engineers must consider: tension, compression, shear, torsion and bending.

